

Digital Contract Repository

Leveraging AI for Efficiency & Accuracy

Efficient companies have 33 % lower contracting costs

In an era where digital transformation is key, many organizations still rely on paper-based contracts or, in better case, scanned copies. Imagine your team reclaiming countless hours previously spent searching through documents, manually transcribing data into spreadsheets, and meticulously tracking commitments and critical dates.

How efficient is your contract lifecycle management?

Professionals spend an average of 45 minutes searching for a contract, and then another 85 minutes searching for information within the contract.¹ A Fortune 1000 company manages at least 20,000 or more active contracts at any given time.

Up to 71 % of organizations are unable to physically locate approximately every tenth contract.²

Bad contract management can cost the company up to 9% of revenue a year.³

How does AI enhance your Cequence contract repository?

Contract Summarization

Navigate complex contracts effortlessly with our AI-powered summaries. Just like using Chat GPT to distill the essence of lengthy emails or detailed articles, we specialize in reading and summarizing intricate contracts. Receive a concise, easily digestible summary that captures the key points of your lengthy contracts.

Save time and gain clarity without the hassle of sifting through pages of legal jargon.

Google-like search experience

We've meticulously crafted our intuitive search feature to be a significant time-saver for your team.

Picture the simplicity and efficiency of a Google-like search experience, now custom-fitted for your contract library.

Using keywords and phrases, our search engine ensures that the right contract is always at your fingertips, just when you need it.

Data Extraction

Leverage the power of our cutting-edge Natural Language Processing (NLP) and Machine Learning (ML) technologies.

We extract metadata from contracts – including dates, prices, supplier info, important deadlines and obligations you don't want to miss, and even specific contractual penalties.

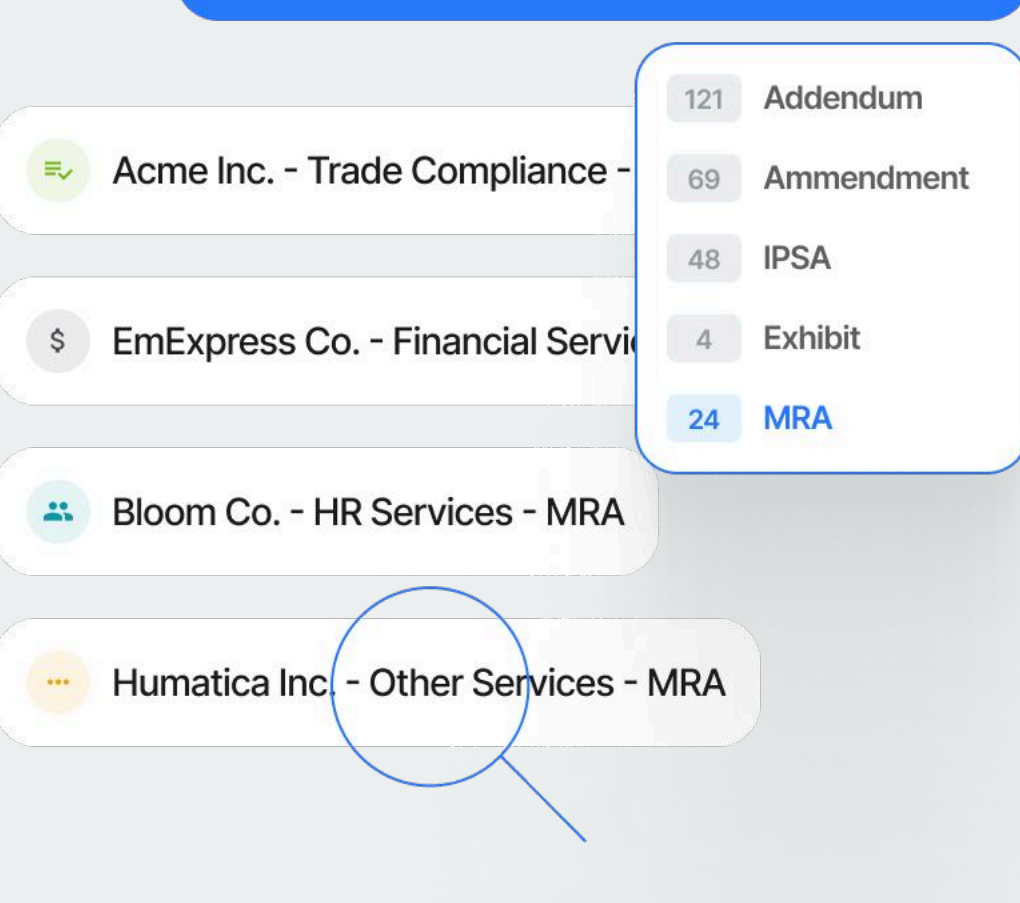

Virtually any data you need, we can extract. You have the control to define the exact metadata we pull from your contracts, tailoring the database to your unique needs.

Q&A Chatbot

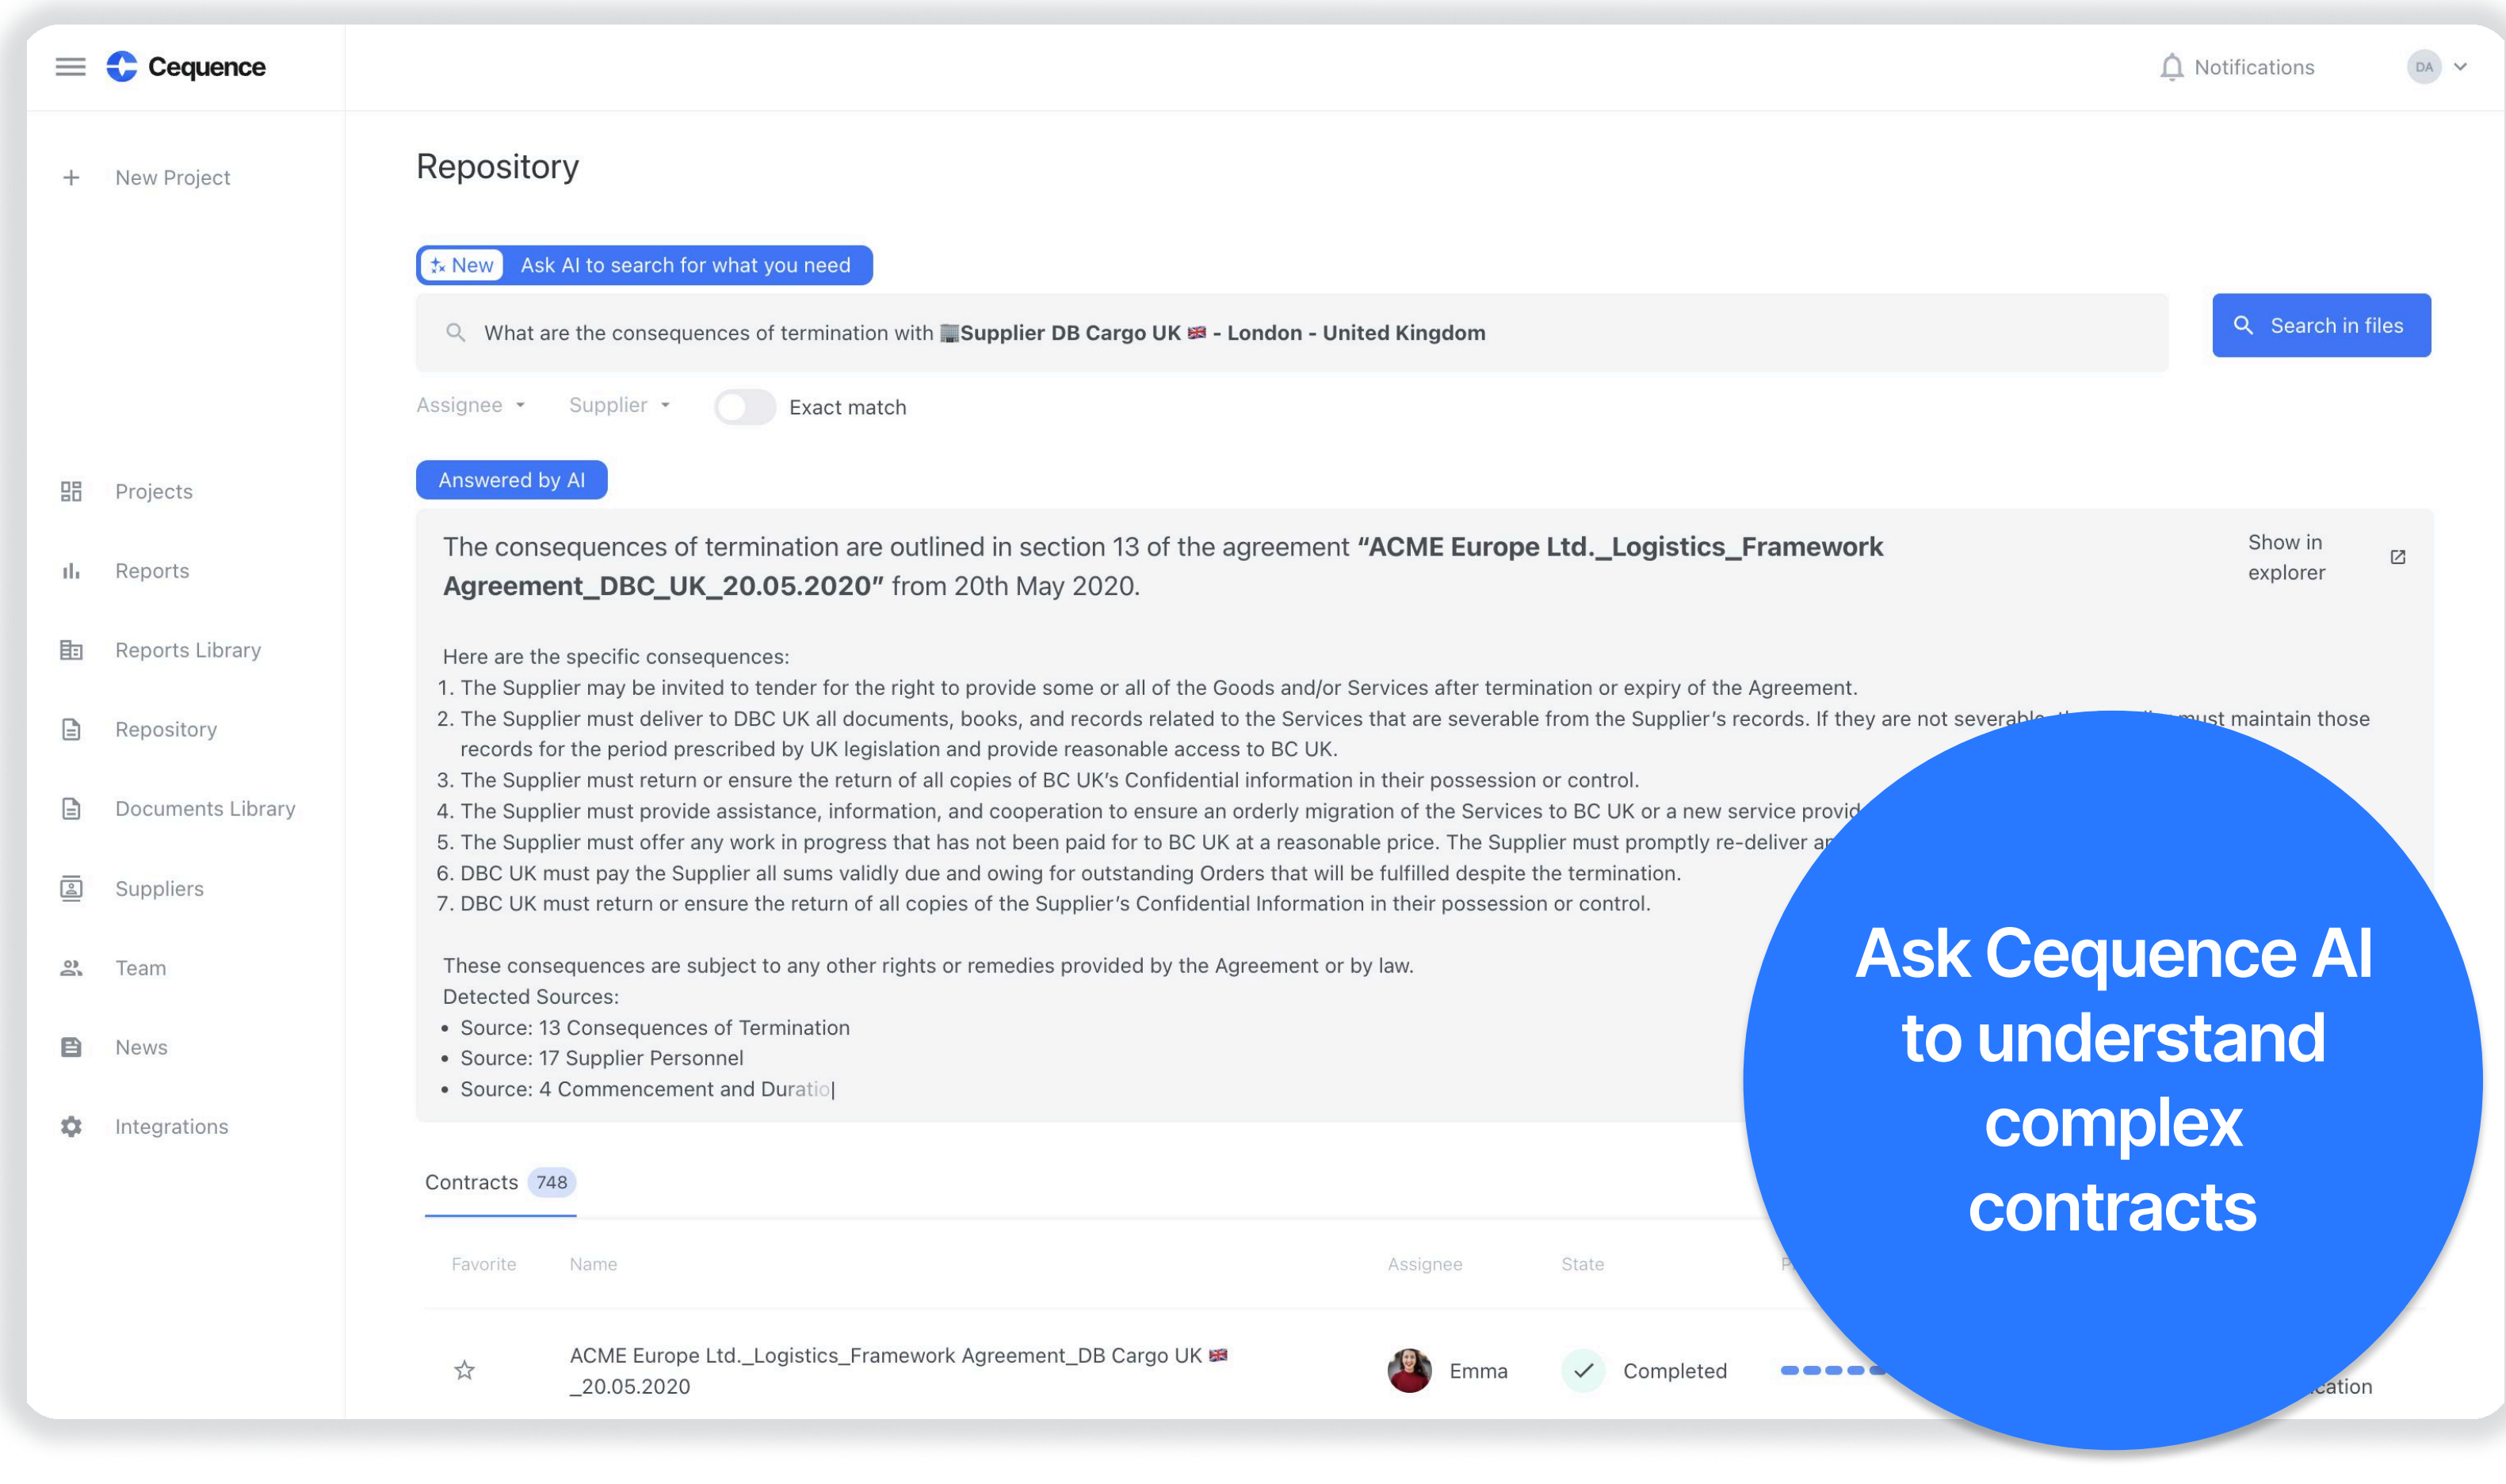

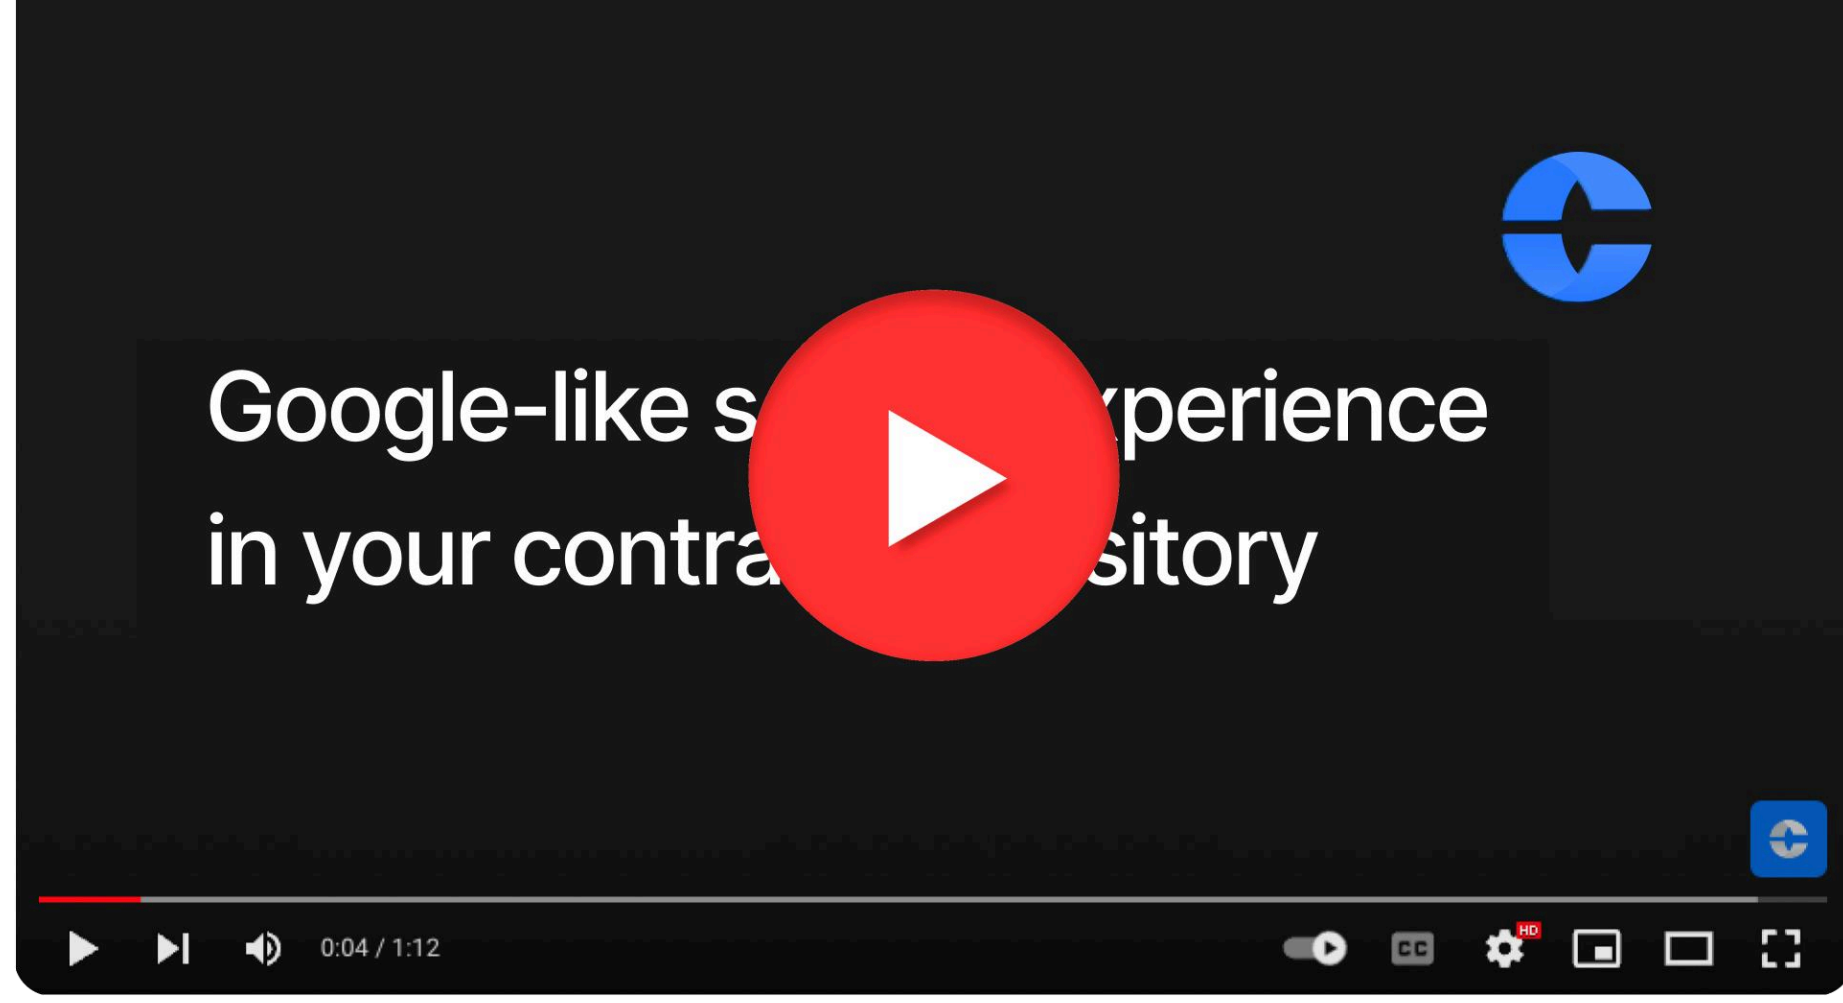

Imagine you got a colleague who have a Eidetic memory and has read every single contract there is. How much time a day would such colleagues save you?

Our Q&A Chat bot is not just a digital tool; it's a repository of knowledge, having 'read' and 'remembered' every word in every contract you have.

Always ready and eager to assist, it is your go-to source for quick, accurate answers. No query is too complex, no detail too minute.

Effortlessly and swiftly, we digitize your contract repository in weeks.
